

... about
persons seen camping
the woods to the north of Hwy.
7 and west of Eureka Rd. on property that is presently owned by

Ed Quest is the new mayor of Deephaven. Election results story is on page 9.

ROUNDUP

By WALTER JOHNSON

I hope you find the time to drop over to visit with Tim Bevins, a fine young man who was badly crippled in an automobile accident, at his open house starting Saturday, Nov. 19, as the new owner of the Tonka Bottle Shop, at Minnetonka Blvd. and 101.

Besides meeting Tim and his staff, you'll meet Scott LeDoux, the boxer who will be slugging it out with Mohammed Ali on Dec. 5. Arnie Palmer has been doing a lot to help get Tim acquainted in the area, and a lot of well-known local people such as Ty Abel, John Berg and Al Steven are also taking a hand. And as a clincher to get you to come, there'll be cookies on hand home-made by Tim's Grandma Rosy in North Dakota.

There's a lot of good music in the lake area these days. For instance, Henry Charles Smith, associate conductor of the Minnesota Orchestra, will be appearing as guest artist-conductor at the first concert of the year by the Minnetonka high school Wind Ensemble (8 p.m. Nov. 22 in the high school auditorium). Speaking of music, I wonder if you have ever been in Orchestra Hall in downtown Minneapolis where the Minnesota Orchestra performs.

to Page 2